

EXPERIENCE GAME

QUESTIONS

This exercise provides you as a student with an opportunity to consider and reflect on yourself as regards possible work situations in your project placement.

In groups of four to five students you take turns to draw one of the questions listed below. In the bottom six rows, group members may prepare additional questions.

Distribute the numbers between you as follows:

1. Cut out the questions, place them on the table with the white side facing up and take turns to draw a question.
2. Distribute the questions randomly among you. You may do so by using <http://numbergenerator.org/> , for instance. Write that you want 20 numbers between 1 and 20 to be distributed randomly.
